I teach 7th grade Life Science, however, about 1/3rd of my students are reading at a 5th grade level or below (as measured by iReady). Students do not get their own textbook but we sometimes use the set of textbooks in the classroom (Science Explorer by Prentice Hall, 2000 and Exploring Life Science by Prentice Hall, 1995).

The history of science is the study of the development of science and scientific knowledge, including both the natural and social sciences. (The history of the arts and humanities is termed history of scholarship.) Science is a body of empirical, theoretical, and practical knowledge about the natural world, produced by scientists who emphasize the observation, explanation, and prediction of ...

Science: its Power and Limitations Rolf Sattler. I felt compelled to write this article for two reasons: 1. Having carried out research in science (plant morphology) and having taught science and philosophy of science for nearly forty years, I wanted to communicate my (limited) insights into the power and limitations of science.
