In law, a judgment is a decision of a court regarding the rights and liabilities of parties in a legal action or proceeding. Judgments also generally provide the court's explanation of why it has chosen to make a particular court order.. The phrase "reasons for judgment" is often used interchangeably with "judgment," although the former refers to the court's justification of its judgment while ...

Introduction. In the United States, two primary systems of land use control operate in parallel: zoning and restrictive covenants. 1 Zoning is the public sectorâ€™s most important land use tool; it is a regulatory mechanism rooted in the state police power and entrusted to local governments by statute. 2 For private parties, covenants are the dominant method of controlling land use. 3 ...
